

Gloria to race blind in stock car

Antioch News Editor Gloria Davis will be the featured attraction at Wilmot Speedway Wednesday, August 11 as she tries her hand at racing on the action clay oval.

Davis will be racing in a spectator-hobby stock and Antioch Mayor Ray Toft, racetrack promoter, said he hopes that Davis drives better than she writes.

To add to the intrigue, Davis, known as "Crash" to some of her closest friends, will be driving blindfolded against blind drivers from Blind Outdoor Leisure Development. Blind drivers drive following directions of a sighted companion seated next to them.

Toft jokingly said he was concerned about being able to find a stock car which he would be able to fit Davis through the window of, since stock cars do not have doors. Davis responded by saying that all future pictures of Mayor Toft would run upside down in the classified section of the Antioch News.

Davis, admitting she is "scared to death," nevertheless said she promises an exciting race. She admitted, however, that she will have an advantage driving on a track with only left turns, since she has trouble remembering the difference between right and left, but she might have trouble maneuvering around other cars.

"I'm planning on wearing a bracelet on my left wrist to help me remember," she said.

Davis will be driving with Jeff Zarnstorff of Wilmot, who is sponsored by Basset Ready Mix, Basset Garage and Fosdick's 24 Hour Towing.

Davis said she was somewhat concerned about having Zarnstorff acting as her "eyes." "I'm told he's the only driver with wheels on his helmet because he spends so much time upside down in his car," said Davis.

Davis said she is planning on wearing a gold lame jumpsuit with sequins and a sequin-studded driving helmet for her racing debut.

Toft, noting that Davis and the blind drivers would be driving demolition cars, promised "an evening that no one will forget."

"I've been trying to get Gloria blindfolded and on the hotseat for a long, long time," Toft added.

The featured race is part of an exciting race card planned for the opening night of the Kenosha County Fair. The one-third mile clay action track is located on the Kenosha County Fairgrounds. Race time is 7:30 p.m.

Watch next week's Antioch News for a report on Gloria Davis' driving exploits.

Supermarket solution comes slow but sure

by GLORIA DAVIS

Antioch's dire grocery store predicament is slowly but surely getting relieved. The grand opening of the new White Hen Pantry, at the intersection of Rtes. 59 and 173, was celebrated last weekend.

Mike Carey, store development director for Scot Lad, reported that the wholesale grocery company that purchased many of the defunct A&P stores in northern Illinois, is planning on opening 10 stores in Lake County in early September. The old Antioch A&P in the Antioch Shopping Plaza is among them.

Some of the stores set to open are ones in Fox Lake, Waukegan, Round Lake and Wauconda.

Scot Lad has leased the stores to independent grocers and will be supplying 20 percent of their inventory which will carry the Scot Lad brands.

Over 80 percent of the inventory will carry the labels of nationally advertised brands.

Clark seeks answers to chemical content of present landfill

by LINDA ADAMS

Hearing officer Gary Neddenreip advised some 150 people present at the HQD landfill site hearings that two persons from Waste Management came out of the August 3 hearing to find the air let out of their tires and that "any further action of this nature will force me to take these meetings to Waukegan."

Waste Management Vice-President Trygve Bakkom and Waste Management witness Dan Nelson both found their tires flat after the hearings, according to Neddenreip, who says that actions such as these will nullify any sympathetic feelings the members of the Lake County Board-appointed landfill hearing committee may have for the Antioch anti-landfill cause.

Neddenreip has set the hearings next week for 6:30 p.m. on Tuesday, August 10 and from 3 to 5 p.m. and starting at 6:30 p.m. on Thursday, August 12, at Antioch High School.

Waste Management concluded its portion of the testimony August 5 with an order from Neddenreip that Nelson, who was testifying regarding design engineering and engineering, be ready for cross-examination by Antioch Village Atty. Ken Clark when the hearings reconvene August 10.

Clark had questions regarding the chemical makeup of some 175 different substances which he said have been dumped in the Antioch landfill. When asking Nelson questions regarding the substances, Nelson, who is the Midwest region engineer for Waste Management, said he could not answer questions regarding the substances because he left his files at the office.

When Clark requested that Nelson bring the records with him August 5 and be ready for cross-examination, Waste Management attorney John Phillips advised Neddenreip that Nelson would be out of town that day and was not sure when he would be available, if ever, to be recalled to give testimony regarding the substances.

Phillips also told Clark that a confidentiality stipulation restricting landfill operators from giving the chemical compounds of generators would prohibit Nelson from discussing the substances' chemical makeup.

Neddenreip told Phillips to have Nelson ready to testify on all of the substances August 10 and to have any motion regarding the confidentiality stipulation ready for preparation that day, in the event the motion is denied.

Stage review

'Little Me' big on entertainment

by GLORIA DAVIS

Kary Walker, Marriott Lincolnshire Theater's producer, has hit another theatrical jackpot with the famed theater's latest production of Neil Simon's musical comedy "Little Me."

Having fun can be contagious and anyone attending the show currently on Marriott's boards is bound to come down with that pleasurable disease within minutes of the overture.

Everything about this version of the lilted Simon farce is fun, from the "Lord of Laughs" script and the catchy Coleman-

Leigh music, to the cavorting of the multiply talented cast.

The cast members are really the main carriers of this enjoyable virus, simply because they seem to have so much fun singing, dancing and acting their heart's out.

The script, one of Simon's earliest, is chock-full of chuckles, with many a good belly laugh popping up here and there.

It's the melodic narrative of the life and many loves of Belle Poitrine, a grade B movie actress.

This is the story whose list of male lead characters reads like the cast of the "10 Commandments," all of whom are played by a slight young man whose versatility makes him a giant of an entertainer.

Jimmy Sudik deserves loud plaudits, not only for his stage prowess, but also for the sheer stamina it takes to carry-off the seven top-notch performances he turns in.

He changes from an aged "Scrooge," to an all-American hero; from a clumsy Doughboy to a suave Parisian entertainer, as easily as he changes costumes.

I still haven't decided whether Mr. Pinchley or the pathetic Fred Poitrine is my favorite Sudik character.

Many other cast members show like versatility, coming through with flying colors, especially Larry Mc Cauley whose final "piece of schtick," changing from Mrs. Eggleston to Jenkins, right on stage, draws loud applause from the audience.

There must never be a dull moment in the Sudik household with all those different personalities living there, lots of them belonging to the feminine half of the Sudik duo, Dee, who plays six of the Simon characters with aplomb.

Although the familiar strains of such standards as "Real Live Girl," and "I've Got Your Number," are reminders that "Little Me," is not a new theatrical offering, the polished Marriott version is newley refreshing.

Other actors doing themselves proud were Beth Williams and Carol Dilley, who play the lead character at different ages, and Tom Galantich and Gary Smiley who also wear several different hats well.

One of the cleverest scenery innovations I've seen in a long time takes place when the sinking of a luxury liner, done before your eyes, is effectively carried off by the waving of sheets and a toy boat, believe it or not!

This show threatens to follow in the same successful footsteps as it's similar predecessor "They're Playing Our Song," promising to have a long SRO run at Marriott.

ASL appoints Costoff

James M. Swiatek, president of Antioch Savings, has announced the appointment of August (Gus) Costoff to the associations board of directors.

In making the announcement, Swiatek said,

"Gus is a true leader. His business experience and dedication to the Antioch community will enhance the position of Antioch Savings and Loan."

The appointment of Gus Costoff is evidence of the association's commitment to the community. Strong local leadership is necessary to serve the future of Antioch.

As executive vice-president of Trac Inc., Costoff and his two brothers own and operate several Ace Hardware Stores, including the one located in Antioch.

INSIGHT INTO EYESIGHT

SEEING AND LEARNING

Vision is never more important than in the first 12 years of a child's life. According to the experts, about 80 percent of all learning in those years is accomplished through seeing. The child has to be able to see well to study the world around him, to read, and to protect himself.

How can you tell if your child has a problem with his vision? Does he tilt his head to one side when looking at someone or something? Maybe he is seeing better with one eye than the other. Does he put his head close to a book when he's reading? This may be a sign of nearsightedness.

Have you noticed him blinking often or rubbing his eyes? Does he complain of headaches? These are telltale signs that he may be having problems with his vision. The only way to know for sure is to call your eye doctor for an appointment.

A good eye examination is thorough, and it's painless. If there is a vision problem, it can usually be corrected with proper eyeglasses or contact lenses.

CPR is class Topic

A cardio-pulmonary resuscitation (CPR) class will be offered as a public service at St. Therese Area Trauma Satellite on Rte. 59 in Lake Villa, on Sunday, August 15, from 1 to 6 p.m., in the community room.

To register, call (312) 578-2702. The class will be taught by instructors certified by the American Heart Assn. Register no later than Wednesday, August 11. Enrollment limited to 20 persons.

This free public service education program is sponsored by the Northern Illinois Emergency Physicians and St. Therese Medical Park.

Cardio-pulmonary resuscitation is a life-saving procedure which can be performed by an individual to provide artificial breathing and circulation of blood for a person whose own breathing mechanism and heart have stopped. Not only is CPR effective for victims of heart attack, but is a life-saving technique for victims of drowning, suffocation, smoke inhalation, poisoning, electrocution and drug overdose.

Roasted meats should be cooked for the shortest time possible, at the lowest temperature, to retain the maximum amount of thiamine. The one very important exception to this rule is, of course, roast pork, which always must be cooked until no pink meat remains.

Editorial:

No spot for a landfill

The hearings presently being held by the Lake County Board's blue ribbon Lake County Regional Pollution Control Hearing Committee are a real joke when you cut right through to the nitty gritty.

Not in the sense of their design. The County Board had good intentions when it set up the process for review of landfill site applications made to the county board.

What is a travesty is that thousands of dollars of both public and private funds are being spent and thousands of man-hours tied up in gathering testimony that honestly will provide little enlightenment.

Everybody knew going into the hearings that all of the Waste Management testimony would be in favor of the site and all of the village of Antioch's testimony would be in opposition. And no matter what the real truth is, it's possible to find, and hire, an expert to testify that just about any fact is true.

So what we have in the end is a special county board committee, made up of residents from outside of the Antioch area, supposedly pouring through pages of conflicting sworn testimony in making a recommendation to the county board.

The landfill issue has become one of desperate concern in Antioch, so much so that it has become an emotional rallying point for the entire community, and rightly so.

Although we'll be the first to admit that landfills are a necessary evil, history has shown that landfills can have a tremendous negative impact on a community.

Just last week it was announced that the Wauconda landfill, operated by John Obenauf, who is the "O" in HOD, was added to the list of landfill sites considered to be the worst in the country.

Although Obenauf has said that only household waste was deposited in the landfill, it is known that industrial waste was also deposited there. The Illinois Environmental Protection Agency says tests show concentrations of ammonia, chloride, boron, polychlorinated biphenyls (PCB's) and dimethylphenol, a cleaning product, are not only in the landfill, but leaching into the groundwater, contaminating neighboring wells as well as Mutton Creek, the main tributary to Island Lake.

This may be an extreme example, but no matter what the experts say in their testimony, there NEVER has been a landfill constructed that did not, or will not, eventually leak. NEVER. And once the landfill is completely filled and covered over, who maintains it to insure that it doesn't leak? After three years it will be Lake County.

We don't have enough faith in the county's concern for little old Antioch that it will consistently provide the amounts of funds necessary to properly maintain this landfill.

We don't have enough faith in Waste Management's concerns for the area, or their ability, that the landfill will NEVER leach.

We don't have enough faith in the fact that if the landfill is constructed and finished, it will be properly maintained so as to assure that it does not pollute the Village of Antioch's well located near the site, or the aquifer which provides drinking water for much of Lake County.

Because of these concerns we believe the expansion of the present landfill should be rejected and alternate sites sought, farther removed from population centers and water sources where the chance of the landfill becoming a health hazard are greatly reduced.

Beyond these points, all other testimony is relatively insignificant.

We encourage Antioch residents and others concerned about this site, to expend all of the energy necessary to successfully fight this siting. We believe the community as well as your children and grandchildren will benefit greatly from those efforts.

company profits. Piskin said he has worked with Waste Management on one other case since the company's inception. Piskin said he did not know how much he charged Waste Management for that case or how much he would charge them for this case.

Piskin also testified to the fact that the proposed landfill site is made of impermeable clay which more than meets the IEPA requirements for permeability and that seven test borings from the proposed site indicate that there are no extensive sand lenses (veins of sand which could cause leakage from the site into the village's water-aquifer) running through the site's clay liner.

Piskin also pointed out that the thickness of the clay liner is seven times thicker than required by the IEPA and that the final ground cover for the site will be four feet and not the required two feet.

Piskin said it was his opinion that the site was a suitable one.

Clark discovered through cross-examination that one of the test borings is 300 feet from the western perimeter of the site, one if 400 feet from that edge and another is 400 feet west of the site. Clark asked Piskin if the fact that the borings were made about half the width of the site distance away from the site would lessen the credibility of the boring findings. Piskin said no.

Piskin also said that Waste Management will monitor the site three years after closure, despite the fact he testified that 25 percent of the settling of the final cover will take place in two years and that 90 percent will take place during the first five years.

Unless the final cover is cared for, it could crack, allowing a larger amount of water than intended to seep into the ground, which could cause a bathtub effect, according to Piskin.

Clark asked Piskin if it was not possible that "one inch under the last dig of the shovel, if artesian pressure in a sand layer and the thickness of the (clay) material would not be enough and (the water) could rip up through the clay," forming a permeable path through which leachates could move quickly. Piskin said it would be possible to have a sand lens six inches below the last dig of the shovel which could be undetected, but he felt it did not constitute a reason for concern.

Also testifying was David B. Miller, president of Metro Transportation Group, Inc., in Bloomingdale, who told the hearing board that the condition of McMillen Rd., the small two-lane road leading to the HOD landfill, is not in worse condition than Rte. 173 and that, according to his traffic study, HOD trucks do not cause a problem with traffic flow.

Miller and his crew made their traffic study and recommendations after a four and a half hour study on Antioch traffic patterns in April of this year. Miller and his crews spent two of those hours observing traffic flow on McMillen Rd. between 4 and 6 p.m.

He said he observed no HOD trucks during that period and that the trucks did not cause a problem turning during Antioch's peak traffic period. The HOD site closed at 3:30 p.m.

Following the testimony of Nelson, Antioch will begin presentation of its witnesses on August 10.

Haley's trial is set again

According to the Palm Beach County Circuit Court records, William Haley, 40, Antioch, is set to face trial on marijuana trafficking charges, on Friday, October 8, in front Edward Rogers, judge of that Florida County's circuit court.

Assistant States Atty. Maurice Hall will prosecute the case. Defending Haley will be Atty. Philip Butler.

James T. Amoroso, McHenry, will face trial in the same courtroom, on the same charges, on the same day.

The charges against Haley stem from his being implicated by Robert Hoffman, 34, Lake Villa, after Hoffman was arrested at the Palm Beach Airport in April 1981 when he landed there with a plane carrying almost $500,000 worth of marijuana.

The plane belonged to William Zeigler, Round Lake, who claimed he had no knowledge of the drug smuggling.

Haley's case will have been banded through Illinois' and Florida's legal systems for 18 months if it does go to trial on the date presently set.

The first European known to have sailed the Pacific was Antonio d'Abreu of Portugal, who sailed into it from the Indian Ocean.

Supermarket solution comes slow but sure

Ridge Mall, at the intersection of Rte. 59 and Grass Lake Rd., said that Dominics Foods is still planning to start construction of their new supermart this fall with spring a target completion date.

Santino also said that Photomat has contracted for mall space as well as Hair Designs Unlimited.

Currently a drug store and two small stores are in the mid of negotiating for space.

A spring completion date is also on the docket for this mall, specifically the food store.

A new case-lot discount grocery store named "Provisions" opened at the north end of Main St. a couple of weeks ago and Bill Newby, Jewel Foods' public relations man, said that everything is going according to schedule as far as the construction of the Jewel-Osco at the northwest corner of Rtes. 59 and 173.

Demolition of three of the existing stores on Rte. 173, that form part of the L-shaped shopping area will start at anytime.

Because of the long-term leases held by Swan's Liquors and Kentucky Fried Chicken, the Sunshine Laundry and Don's Drive-In will be allowed to stay until some decision as to when Jewel will need that area for additional parking is made.

"There have been no surprises as our plans progress," said Bill Newby, Jewel's public relations man. Getting all the necessary paper work and approval before we actually go into construction takes time."

This supermarket is also expected to be completed by spring of 1983.

Alarm system switch under board perusal

One of the main topics of discussion at both the next committee and regular meetings of the Antioch Village Board is expected to be the proposed switch of the village alarm system.

The village board does the clerical work, including the billing for the present system, which has 90 hookups.

Pending board approval, possibly to be gained at Monday, August 16 meeting, the new system will be able to handle 1,000 hook-ups. The present system is almost at capacity.

The new proposal has the alarm company, Metropolitan Alarm (the same company now being used by the village), doing the billing directly.

The proposed system will cost Metropolitan up to $20,000 and will be owned by the alarm company.

Village Clerk Marilyn Sterbenz said, "The cost of the clerical work involved will be eliminated, so it will all be evened out because that cost just about negated any profit the village was making."

Those presently hook-up are paying $120 annually for maintainance, they will be automatically switched to the new system free of charge and their maintainance fees will remain the same.

Those who apply for new hook-ups will be charged $125 for one and $175 for two plus $120 annually for maintainance.

Police Chief Chuck Miller is in favor of the new system because of the new improvements it will bring that include a monitoring benefit of longer flashing on the board at the police station when an alarm goes off.

Miller anticipates the need for the additional hook-up space because the new system is expected to attract added participants.

Grade schools plan registration

Registration for the 1982-83 school year will be held on Tuesday and Wednesday, August 24 and 25. Registration for each of the four schools will be held at the school your child will attend.

The hours for registration will be as follows: Tuesday, August 24, from 9 a.m. to 12 p.m. and 1 to 4 p.m.

On Wednesday, August 25, from 12 to 3 p.m. and 6 to 9 p.m.

Fees for grade kindergarten, the cost of a textbook is $15 and milk is $11 for one-half year.

Grades first through fifth textbook cost is $25 and grades sixth through eighth textbook cost is $31 (including towels).

All students entering kindergarten and fifth grade must have a physical examination, including specific immunizations, prior to being admitted to school. Failure to comply with this state requirement will cause the school to refuse to admit your child.

A birth certificate or certificate from the hospital will be required at the time of registration for children entering kindergarten or those children entering first grade who did not attend kindergarten.

STATS offers tests

Free Blood Pressure Screening will be offered to the public on Thursday, August 19, at St. Therese Area Satellite (STATS), located on Rte. 59, just south of Grand Ave. in Lake Villa.

No registration is required, just stop by between 11 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Curing Gum Disease

Q: My dentist says I need surgery to cure my gum disease. Is there any other way?

A: It is easy to understand a patient wanting to avoid surgery. That's why non-surgical treatment of gum conditions deserves a close look. Most of these treatment methods include combinations of salt, hydrogen peroxide, and sodium bicarbonate.

The problem with these treatments is that they are being promoted as "magic elixirs." These materials have no mystical abilities to cure the causes of gum disease. For that matter, gum surgery has no magical qualities either. At this point, both surgical and non-surgical treatments aim largely at a simple, non-glamorous goal: keeping the teeth and gums clean.

There are clearly times that surgery is called for to change the shape of the gums and leave them in a condition that is easier to clean. In these cases, a totally non-surgical treatment will not serve a patient's best interests.
